

THIS IS HOW IT WORKS, GIRLS—Lt. G. J. Hellmuth, explains the whys and wherefores of a Flying Fort to WAC Pvt. Mabel F. Powell and WAC T/Sgt. Alice Forsht. Capt. H. L. Piper looks on.

"WE JUST GAVE JERRY SOME HELL"—Col. William T. Seawell stops to talk it over with Capt. Rufus F. Causey, his navigator, after a bombing mission over Germany.

SHE'S DOING HER BIT, TOO—Pvt. Haydn C. Williams, a guard with the 1199th M. P. Company, is shown at his post on the far end of camp with a tiny visitor from the village. She says she helped check on German spies.

Lt. Leonard Mendelson, a bombardier, kicked loose some jammed bombs on one mission; on the next he had to bail out and landed on his head, but escaped injury. Then he got a 48-hour pass, went to London in a "pea souper" fog, stepped off a curb directly in front of a cab, and landed in the hospital.
